

Mount Laurel Animal Hospital is looking to hire an additional exotics-focused veterinarian to join our team. We are a busy privately owned specialty, 24/7 emergency, and general practice which is built around a collaborative culture. Our team is made up of over 40 veterinarians with several board certified specialists including a full time internist (with a second internist starting August 2019), three surgeons (with a fourth surgeon starting August 2019), two full time oncologists, part-time anesthesiologist, full-time ophthalmologist, full-time in house clinical pathologist, part time cardiologist, radiologist/ultrasound coverage, full-time behavioral medicine, full-time neurologist, full-time dermatologist, three exotics veterinarians, and full-time critical care coverage. We are well staffed with 170+ support staff and highly trained nurses including several veterinary technician specialists.

Our exotics service sees a wide range of primary care and emergency cases. Our location in the tristate area combined with a 24/7 emergency service leads to a high case load of exotics cases. We currently see a large number of small mammals, avian, reptile and amphibian species. We also provide care for aquatics, as well as triage care for the occasional wildlife patients. We are equipped with facilities to readily provide 24 hours care to most exotic species.

Our hospital is in the midst of a large 22,000sq ft expansion (anticipated completion June 2019). Please CLICK HERE to view our expansion plans.

We are fully equipped with a Toshiba 64 Slice CT, Siemen's 1.5 Tesla MRI, endoscopic equipment, a fully integrated in-house laboratory, surgical suites, ultrasound, digital radiography, therapy laser, surgical laser, Snyder ICU cages, chemo hood, and fully stocked pharmacy. Our expansion will include a dedicated internal medicine/endoscopy procedure room, dedicated i131 space, dedicated ultrasound and reading rooms, CT, MRI, advanced and minimally invasive surgery rooms, and a dedicated ICU.

Skills & Qualifications: Preference will be given to intern or residency trained applicants in the field of exotic medicine. Experience with emergency medicine is a plus. We look forward to hiring a person who is highly motivated, organized, and friendly. We are looking for someone who will embrace our philosophy of top-notch customer service, outstanding client and patient care, and team work.

Location: Our hospital is located in Mount Laurel, NJ which is a convenient 20-25minute commute from Philadelphia and only 1hr drive to the Jersey Shore.

Position: Flexible work schedule (full time considered), competitive salary, and comprehensive benefits package will be provided to the right candidate. Our benefits package includes health, vision, and dental insurance, 401K match, CE allowance, an internal bonus system, and vacation time.
