

The Center for Bird and Exotic Animal Medicine (CBEAM, www.theexoticvet.com) is looking for 2 full time veterinarian interns to join our team through the Match (VIRMP). Located near Seattle, WA, CBEAM is thriving in these unprecedented times and continuing to expand the services offered to our clients. We are exotics-exclusive, staffed 24/7, and provide both emergency and routine preventative care to our patients. We recently added CT and fluoroscopy to our clinic, and already have digital radiography, ultrasound, endoscopy, and specialized surgical equipment. We also have access to multiple other local clinical specialists (cardiology, radiology, oncology, etc.).

We currently have 8 full time doctors (including one ABVP board certified avian specialist and 1 full time veterinary resident), 7 techs, and 10 assistants. The available veterinary intern positions would be primarily focused on emergency exotic medicine with some routine appointments. Candidates must be willing to work some overnight and swing (afternoon/early evening) shifts.

This position is a great opportunity for someone who practices high quality medicine and is interested in getting boarded in exotics. In addition to clinician mentorship, continuing education is provided for doctors twice weekly to ensure that everyone is up to date on the latest advancements in the field.

Our ideal veterinary intern candidate is someone who has completed an internship in dog/cat medicine or has been in clinical practice for at least 1 year. We are willing to consider a clinician with less experience if they are the right fit for our practice. The clinician must be able to handle a caseload of 10-20 cases per day, and have excellent interpersonal skills.

Interested candidates should apply through the Match (www.VIRMP.org).
